A homophone is a word that sounds like a different word, like 'flower' and 'flour'. How many other homophones can you think of? Some have three different spellings!						